Administration of aeronautical products for sporting, recreation and similar purposes in Germany

Dear ladies and gentleman, according to the regulations of the „Verordnung zur Beauftragung von Luftsportverbänden“ (Decree for the Authorization of Air Sport Associations), the administration of aeronautical products is commissioned to air sport associations, supervised by the Federal Ministry of Transport and digital Infrastructure.

Among others, the above mentioned regulations are affecting the air sport association Deutscher Aero Club (DAeC) for ultra light aircrafts, controlled aerodynamically.

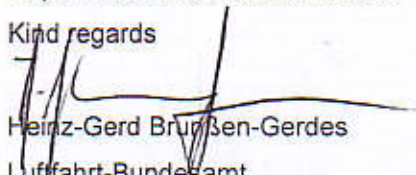

The DAeC is put in charge of

- issuance of Type Certificates,
- noise tests, as a mandatory part of the Type Certification
- issuance of C of A's,
- issuance of pilot licences and ratings
- issuance of licences for instruction of pilots
- supervision of operation of these aeronautical products on aerodromes and airfields
- raising fees, according to the „Kostenverordnung für Luftfahrtgerät“ (Decree for Fees of Aviation Administration)
- annual inspection of ultra light aircrafts, according to the „Verordnung zur Prüfung von Luftfahrtgerät“ (Decree for Inspektion of Aeronautical Products)

The DAeC is supervised by the Federal Ministry of Transport and digital Infrastructure. For the time being, supervision has been delegated to the German Civil Aviation Authority, i.e. the LBA. Supervision is concerning administrative as well as technical activities of the air sport associations. Commissioned air sport associations report to the LBA periodically.

Hope we could be on assistance.

Kind regards
